evolution of the educational expenditure per pupil (1)

(in euros) ■ regular secondary education ■ special secondary education

(1) The increase of the educational expenditures per pupil between 2008 and 2007, and the decrease of the educational expenditure per pupil between 2009 and 2008, can be explained by the pre-payment of the operation budget for 2009.

Secondary education is administered by four divisions jointly responsible for mainstream and special secondary education and part-time secondary education.

Department of Education and Training – division Institutions and Pupils in Secondary Education and Adult Education

This division is responsible for policy preparation, policy assessment and drawing up regulations on organisational and funding mechanisms of education institutions in mainstream and special secondary education and adult education (more specifically issues concerning staffing hours, school structures, funding, equal opportunities in education, rights of pupils, Regional Technological Centres etc,...). You can contact this division at secundaironderwijsbeleid@vlaanderen.be and volwassenenonderwijsbeleid@vlaanderen.be

Agency for Educational Services - division Schools of Secondary Education and Part-time Education in the Arts

This agency provides services to secondary schools and pupils as well as to Part-time Education in the Arts. This includes amongst other things:

- different models of allocation of teaching staff and credits;
- allocation of different types of funding;
- checking pupil data;
- follow-up of truancy problem.

You can contact this agency at scholen.secundaironderwijs.agodi@vlaanderen.be and deeltijdskunstonderwijs.agodi@vlaanderen.be

Department of Education and Training – division Working conditions policy

This division is responsible for the working conditions policy in the education sector (with the exception of higher education).

In order to develop the most appropriate working conditions policy, this division works in close consultation with Flemish, federal and international organizations and interest groups, taking into account labour market evolutions, recent evolutions in the education sector as well as the views of policy makers. Evolutions in working conditions in other sectors are studied and if necessary incorporated into policy proposals.

You can contact this division at personeelsbeleid.onderwijs@vlaanderen.be

Agency for Educational Services - division Staff of Secondary Education and Part-time Education in the Arts

This agency ensures that staff members of mainstream and special secondary education as well as part-time education in the arts are paid correctly and on time. It manages personnel files containing financial and administrative information.

This includes:

- keeping up to date, following up on and processing of various systems of leave such as sick leave, career break, different systems of leave or absence in the context of part-time work or the performance of other tasks in the education sector,...
- keeping up to date, following up on and processing of various systems of placing staff members on a redundancy list in education (due to illness, because of lack of jobs, for personal reasons, before retiring,...)

The agency provides information and data to both internal and external customers.

You can contact this agency at personeel.secundaironderwijs.agodi@vlaanderen.be and deeltijdskunstonderwijs.agodi@vlaanderen.be
