TRULY

FAMILY-FRIENDLY

Let's unpack ...

Welcome to Flanders, a small region that excels in craftsmanship, from delicious chocolate to the gems of our Flemish Masters. The art cities of Antwerp, Bruges, Brussels, Ghent, Leuven and Mechelen offer families an unforgettable experience with their unique multilingual family offer. And all this against a unique backdrop of UNESCO World Heritage.

Come and discover the rich culture and heritage of Flanders outside the cities with a wide range of surprising bike rides, beautiful nature, idyllic castles and impressive abbeys. In short, discover how extensively families are catered for, also in these three Flemish regions: Limburg, the Kempen and the Flemish Coast. Flanders has everything it takes to provide families with a fantastic stay.

... and pack families in

Where else can you find such a varied offer for every age? The trendiest dining addresses and the most welcoming accommodation? The most exciting museums and fantastic attractions? Sea, green and historic cities a stone's throw from each other? This way, you can experience and discover a great deal together in a short space of time (and within a short distance!). It is no coincidence that Flanders and Brussels are on the map as truly family-friendly destinations. We are small in size, but big in what we have to offer. And proud. Proud of our region with its heritage gems, culinary traditions and legendary cycling culture. Flemings are not only warm and hospitable people, but are also known for their knowledge of languages. We will happily speak with you in English, French and German. Good morning, bonjour, Guten Tag!

Packed for you

This brochure combines a lovely selection of family experiences of heritage, nature and cycling with a sprinkling of culinary experiences and family-friendly overnight addresses. As an international travel organiser, let yourself be inspired by the family-friendly and fascinating discoveries in the art cities and regions. In addition to quality, these were also chosen on the basis of the multilingual offer. Discover how the many seasonings form a source of inspiration, without this being a complete summary of the family-friendly offerings in Flanders. Convinced? Now put together a unique travel product for your guests with the carefully selected sights, accommodation addresses and food and drink establishments. We wish you much inspiration!

CROSSING SURPRISING FLANDERS

HOW DO YOU GET TO FLANDERS AND BRUSSELS?

All the major cities are within a short distance of each other and are easily accessible by public transport as well as by car. Visit www.visitflanders.com/en/travel-information/travelling-and-around-flanders for more information on how to reach Flanders and Brussels from abroad by train, bus or plane.

The Netherlands

TRAVEL

There are various ways of getting around in Flanders.

BY TRAIN

- Travel all over Flanders by train. Hop from one city to another: sustainable and safe!
- Belgium has the densest railway network in Europe.
- Tickets are for sale in the stations, online or via the app.
- Children up to 12 years travel free of charge or receive a 50% discount if travelling alone.

Check www.belgianrail.be for other interesting family rates.

BY BUS, TRAM OR METRO

- Travel easily within the city or regions by bus, tram or metro. No parking stress!
- Free travel for children aged up to 6.
- Tickets are available at all vending machines or fixed points of sale in the stations, online or via the app.

For more information, visit www.delijn.be and www.stib-mivb.be (Brussel)

ON FOOT OR BY BIKE

- Bike sharing systems are available at over 100 stations in Flanders. This makes travelling by train even more attractive.
- Each major city has various bicycle rental points. Available everywhere: child seats and/or bicycles with trailers for children.

- Exploring on foot or by bike? Thanks to the compact and often car-free nature of the cities, this is an excellent idea!

WITH THE COASTAL TRAM

- 68 stops over a 70-kilometre stretch.
- From Knokke-Heist to De Panne, the journey takes 2.5 hours.
- The coastal tram runs every 10 minutes in summer, every 20 minutes in winter.
- With a day pass you travel unlimited at a very advantageous rate.

For more information, visit www.dekusttram.be

WITH A (RENTAL) CAR

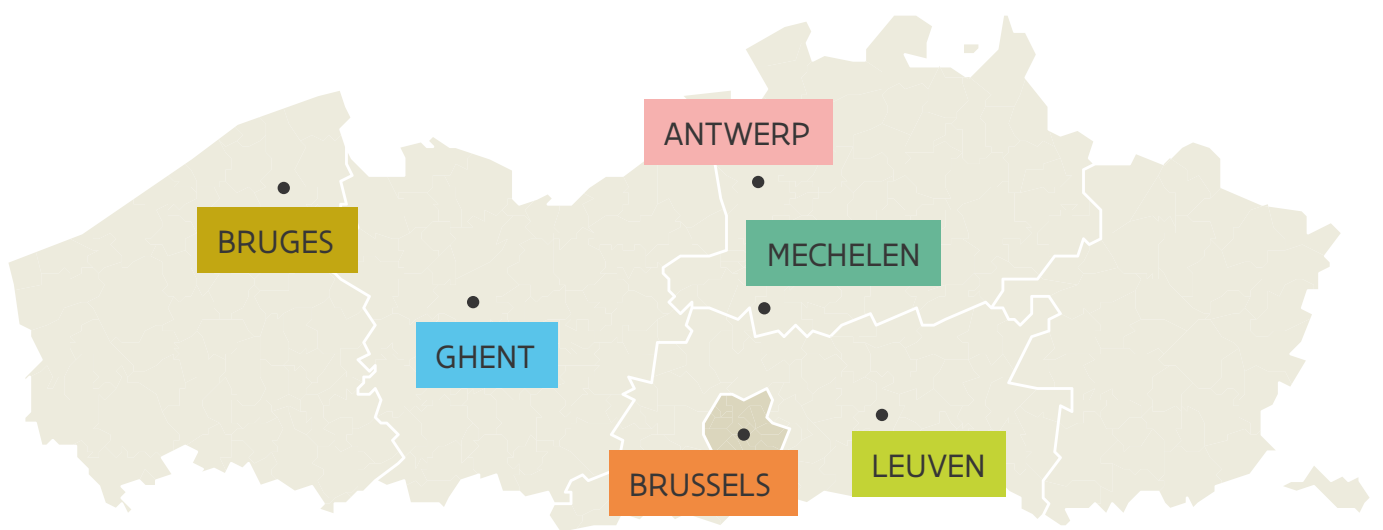

- You can rent a car in various places. Rental points can be found, among other things, at airports and in cities - often in the vicinity of the station.
- A child seat is mandatory for children under 1.35 m (often easy to book at car rental companies).
- Parking in cities is quite expensive. The fringe car parks are a handy alternative. Then take the bus or tram to get you to the centre.

SIX STUNNING CITIES

ANTWERP

THE COSMOPOLITAN CITY ON THE RIVER SCHELDT

How to describe the city of Peter Paul Rubens in one word? Multifaceted! Get ready for a vibrant experience brimming with art, fashion, diamonds, culture, architecture and historical riches. Everywhere you go, from the Groenplaats to the Grote Markt, from the Suikerrui to the Scheldepromenade, you'll be surrounded by an atmosphere of welcome. Add in the kids-proof factor and the result is a heady mix of child-friendly museums, exciting treasure hunts and exotic animals. Antwerp uses all its assets to win over people of all ages. And there are many such assets. A great many.

On the following pages, we offer you some tips for a kids-proof city trip to this metropolis.

The Royal Museum of Fine Arts Antwerp

After many years of restoration, you are welcome to discover a world-class art collection. The KMSKA is more than ever a paradise for art lovers... and for families too. Ideal for a pleasant trip with the children, because there's so much to experience. Such as 'The 10', ten unique sculptures that together form an adventurous journey of discovery, conceived by artist and opera director Christophe Coppens. Or climbing or crawling in an installation... It's all possible and allowed. In addition, every child between the ages of 6 and 12 will receive an activity booklet with illustrations by Christophe Coppens as a gift for the family itinerary. You can also immerse yourself in artworks in the immersive space, where a 17th century art gallery was recreated virtually. Would you like some rest in between? This is possible both in the stimuli-free space and in the museum garden. Are you visiting the KMSKA during the weekend?

Then you can also get creative yourself in the Open Atelier. More inspiration? You will find everything clearly on the KMSKA website.

Boekenbergpark in Deurne

Take a fresh dive into the ecological swimming pool of the Boekenbergpark in Deurne. With a length of 73 m you can do quite some swimming! The little ones will have a great time in the paddling pool. This swimming facility is located about 5 km outside the Antwerp city centre.

www.antwerpen.be/boekenberg-deurne

Chocolate Nation

Belgium's first chocolate factory was located in Antwerp and the city has the world's largest cocoa storage port. So where better to experience the story of the famous chocolate than in Chocolate Nation? Or the largest Belgian chocolate museum in the world. Fancy tasting ten different flavours of the delicious treat? You don't need to convince your sweet tooth!

www.chocolatenation.be/en

DIVA

Do you love everything that sparkles? Then at DIVA, the museum for diamonds, jewellery and silver in Antwerp, you won't believe your eyes. This museum treats its visitors to fascinating stories and magnificent objects. You will be introduced to the rich history and craftsmanship of goldsmithing. DIVA also welcomes detectives from the age of 7 to crack the Treasury code together!

Expeditie A

Introducing children to Antwerp in a playful way, that is Expedition A. Lange Wapper and Vos Antigoon take children and their parents and grandparents on an expedition through unexpectedly beautiful spots, impressive buildings and surprisingly green corners. Along the way, cunning questions and playful assignments guide the children through the city.

www.visit.antwerpen.be/nl/expeditie-a

Visit the FOMU with children and together discover the exhibitions in a playful way with the FOMU activity box. In it you will find search, drawing, activity and thinking assignments, stimulating questions and your own booklet in which you can scribble everything down. Ideal for going exploring together. Suitable for children aged 6 to 12. Ask for the free activity box at reception.

Ghostwalk and Mystery Walk

Antwerp through another, perhaps rather creepy pair of glasses. Exciting ghost tours and mysterious walks provide an evening full of adventurous thrills. With guide.

www.ghostwalk.be

Het Steen - The Antwerp Story

Het Steen is Antwerp's official visitor centre. In this 800-year-old castle, children feel like knights or ladies. The attraction The Antwerp Story takes you through the history of the city, its neighbourhoods and well-known residents. Afterwards you can enjoy the roof terrace with a view of the Scheldt and the historic centre.

www.experienceantwerp.be

MAS (Museum aan de Stroom)

An impressive 'warehouse', where a new story about Antwerp, the port and the world awaits on each floor. Families explore the museum with the free treasure hunt by Captain MASSimiliaan. A boulevard with long escalators takes you 60 m high, to a spectacular view of the city. You can also picnic here on your own picnic blanket or on a blanket that you borrow for free at the counter. A visit to the MAS will not only satisfy your cultural hunger!

Middelheim Museum

Beautiful and unique park full of wonderful art, from crooked boats to bathing children. With a choice of 10 suitcases and 10 themes, the voyage of discovery Muzzzé takes you right through the art park. With a story and numerous viewing, search and activity assignments, materials and information, children aged 5 to 12 will discover the works of art. Great art also inspires small people! Close by is a large playground with a cosy and family friendly restaurant.

www.middelheimmuseum.be

Museum Plantin-Moretus

Walk into the print shop and the home of the Plantin-Moretus family as if you were just a friend of the family there 400 years ago. Children and families can work there as real printers. An audio play and assignment booklet help them get started in the museum.

www.museumplantinmoretus.be

Plopsa Station Antwerp

The famous Belgian comic book characters and favourite Studio 100 heroes offer a warm welcome to Plopsa Station Antwerp, the brand new indoor park in the station building of Antwerp Central Station. The raging race with Suske and Wiske, the Bumbamolen, the Smurf adventure and many more enchanting attractions guarantee an adventurous day out with the whole family. Free admission for children under 85 cm.

www.plopsastationantwerp.be

Provincial Domain Rivierenhof

Work off some energy in a magically beautiful piece of nature? Some 5 km outside the city, children can enjoy themselves to the full in Antwerp's largest park. The petting zoo, the maze and a large playground look particularly seductive.

www.provincieantwerpen.be/rivierenhof

Red Star Line Museum

Two million passengers made the crossing from Antwerp to North America between 1873 and 1935 with the steam ships of the Red Star Line. The museum tells its universal story about dreams, hopes and the search for happiness. Travel with your children and grandchildren to chase the emigrants with the interactive family suitcase or the family tour tailored to children.

www.redstarline.be

Sportoase Groot Schijn Deurne

Don't just say 'swimming pool' to Sportoase Groot Schijn Deurne. A wave and plunge pool, slides and rapids complete the fun. The little ones have a great time in the toddler and nursery areas. Summer weather? Take a dip in one of the outdoor pools. A sporty experience 5 km from the centre.

www.sportoase.be/nl/groot-schijn

Street Art city walks

Several Antwerp façades are decorated with beautiful murals of comic book characters and stunning graffiti art. You can easily discover them thanks to the walks of the Antwerp Museum App! Touring comic strip walls. How cool is that!

www.antwerpen.be/street-art

Antwerp ZOO

Next to the Antwerp Central station, you will find one of the oldest and most beautiful zoos in the world. A must-visit for families, with over 5,000 animals from the jungle, savannah and underwater world. Prams for rent for 3 euros per day. Beastly fun!

The message 'no more war' remains current and even tangible in this region. The many family-friendly visitor centres and sights playfully immerse families in the haunting history of the Great War. Discover the family trail in the many museums and step through the past in the trenches of the Dodengang and Bayernwald with your assignment booklet in hand. Be silent together to the tones of the Last Post and unravel the secrets of the landscape lined with craters and bunkers using life-size photos and interactive applications tailored to families. A true journey of experience for young and old alike.

With this handy guide, you can map out a family-friendly programme in no time.

ACCESSIBILITY

The cities of the Westhoek are accessible by train, but the best way to travel between stops is by car. Parking is available in the car parks near the city centre or at the sights themselves.

BRUSSELS

THE CRADLE OF EUROPE

There is no doubt that Brussels is a global city. The Grote Markt with the iconic Town Hall, the Stock Exchange Building, the Palace of Justice, the Koekelberg Basilica and the many other historical jewels are part of the architectural grandeur of Brussels. Manneken Pis is also a favourite for children, but the family-friendly offering has many more gems in its crown. Throughout the city you can spot comic book characters, find museums tailored to children's needs, and the little ones can rough and tumble in imposing forests and parks, such as the Jubelpark and the Sonian Forest. Family-friendly options abound! These tips will guide you through the wide selection.

Step into the world of illusions

Nothing is what it seems in museums that conjure up illusions. And there are two such museums in Brussels. Near the Grote Markt, Illusion Brussel profiles itself as a small museum of the incredible. Every element presented seems unrealistic or counter-intuitive, from magic tricks to technological miracles. The Museum of Illusions on the Wolvengracht also offers an intriguing, visual, sense-tingling and educational experience for the whole family.

GHENT

HISTORICAL CHARM WITH A CONTEMPORARY TOUCH

Ghent, the city that has been the native land of counts and dukes over the centuries and where the cradle of Emperor Charles once stood, has 1,400 years of history. Historic houses, iconic cathedrals, the imposing Castle of the Counts and the beautiful Ghent Altarpiece radiate endless charm. No wonder children feel like a knight or lady there. A city trip with children? Ghent is the perfect match! In addition to culture and history, the East Flanders capital also offers vibrant city life, from 12 surprising museums where the little ones are also welcome to cool experiences tailored to children. But first, time for that typical Ghent delicacy: cuberdons. Mmm! As you see, the possibilities are almost endless. Use the tips in this section to compile the best trips. Time to browse!

DID YOU KNOW?

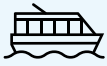

- Anyone who heads to Ghent in July can count on a great deal of entertainment. Because that's when the city goes wild for ten days. Every year, thousands of partygoers descend on the city centre. This makes the Ghent Festivities one of the largest popular festivals in Europe. It is therefore no coincidence that they are recognised as Flemish intangible heritage. It has been a tradition for 125 years: hopping from one square to another to attend concerts and performances. Of course, the popular food and drink stands are not missing either.
- After five editions, we can also call the Festival of Lights an unmissable event. Every three years, Ghent bathes in light in January or February. The city then forms the backdrop for ingenious light installations, spectacular performances and a surprising spectacle. A kilometres-long route puts both well-known hotspots and lesser-known spots in a different perspective. The next edition will take place in 2024.

TO AND ACROSS GHENT

Hop on hop off water tram

With the hop on hop off water tram you can reach the various locations in the city in a way that is quite the experience. There are six stops, including the Castle of the Counts. Children pay a reduced rate. If you buy a CityCard Ghent, a day pass for the water tram is included.

www.hoponhopoff.be

Car, bus and tram

There is a low-emission zone within the city ring road. Polluting cars are therefore not welcome in the Ghent city centre. Don't panic! Within the centre you can easily get about by bus and tram. Moreover, Ghent is a compact city. Many sights are within walking distance of each other.

Bicycle

Ghent is above all known as a bicycle-friendly city. To rent a two-wheeler, you can contact various bicycle rental points. For example, the Fietsambassade, a local association that rents out and repairs bicycles, from a traditional city bicycle to a longtail bicycle (with a seat for two children in the back) or a parent-child bicycle (with extra pedals for the children). Ready to zoom through the city?

LEUVEN

UNIVERSITY CITY WITH A RICH HISTORY

Discover the oldest university city of the Low Countries, which for more than 600 years has combined wisdom from bygone and new times. Leuven is a vibrant, cosy city with many parks and beautiful historic buildings. Large and small jaws alike will drop in wonder when you see the phenomenal Town Hall in Gothic style, full of remarkable statues. Thanks to the traffic-free streets, you can walk around without a care. Several historical sights are within walking distance of each other. Think of the Beguinage, the renovated Saint Peter's Church and the long-established Botanical Garden. Don't miss the cosy terraces along the River Dyle: benches and lawns invite you to rest and relax together. Feel the authentic yet youthful energy, so typical of this city.

NIEUWPOORT

Westfront Nieuwpoort

The lock complex of Nieuwpoort, better known as 'De Ganzepoot', played a crucial role during the First World War. In October 1914, the opening of the locks inundated the IJzervlakte. This ended the advance of the German army. In the Westfront Nieuwpoort visitor centre, you can learn more about this remarkable piece of history via unique objects, interactive modules, personal stories and a 180° projection. At the end of your visit, you are treated to a 360° view of the sea, the coastal strip and the polders, seen from the King Albert I Monument. The 'Mystery of the Smart Skipper' is a free experience that takes the youngest visitors along with you (tailored for children aged 8 to 12).

DID YOU KNOW?

- The unique setting of the Flemish coast forms the backdrop for the Beaufort arts festival every three years. Each edition of the triennial brings a mix of 20 monumental works of art. Belgian and foreign artists will take you on a tour in all 10 coastal municipalities. Go out with the family and discover this attractive art trail free of charge. Luckily, you don't have to wait until the new edition of the arts festival in 2024, because the permanent sculpture park is also more than worthwhile. Forty memorable works of art were given a permanent place along the sea walls, beaches and dunes of the entire Belgian coastline. You can easily reach the various locations: on foot, by bike or on the coastal tram. And that seven days a week!

www.beaufortbeeldenpark.be

- In the summer months, beach bars add colour to the entire coastline. Relax with your feet in the sand and a drink in your hand. The surfing clubs offer all kinds of water sports. Each surfing club or beach bar has its own atmosphere and style. But everywhere you go, you get the ultimate beach experience for free. Instant holiday feeling for the whole family!

Het Klankenbos – Sound Art in the Open Air, Pelt

A unique collection of outdoor sound art. Sounds good, and it is good too! Listen carefully, sharpen up your ears and follow the sound trail of Tandroor. You set off with a sound map and on the way you come across hidden sound installations. Each of the seven stops is accompanied by a short game with which you can obtain a word. Are you able to collect all the words and turn them into a sentence? Don't forget to sing it out loud! This is the only way to completely unravel the secret of Het Klankenbos. A free children's activity for the whole family (age 5+).
